

BLESSINGS IN THIS PLACE

Blessed are those who are weary of the storm around us.

In this place, may they find hospitality and a welcoming spirit.

Blessed are those who seek peace of mind.

In this place, may they feel safe and protected.

Blessed are the children and their family members.

In this place, may they be treated with love and warmth.

Blessed are those who work to save the lives of our fellow human beings.

In this place, may they be granted strength to carry the task and clear minds to guide their care under intense stress.

Blessed are those who reach out to patients and bring them to this place of hope and healing.

In this place, grant them strong hands to provide care and tender hearts to offer assurance to those in need as well as safe passage in their travels.
